

Media role has increased a lot in kid's lives. Kid's life in today's fast moving & competitive world is under a lot of pressure and raising kids in the world where, learning disability diagnosis, bullying, childhood obesity, lack in behaviour & skill, social development are at all time highs, isn't easy.

Education has been always a helpful tool for everyone in this world to overcome all this constraints in living a perfect life. And defining & choosing a ideal school for such education has become real burden on kids as well as their Parents

Choosing the Perfect School

This all started...

When I was trying to find the perfect & required school for my son, I used every available resource to me. The problem, these sources weren't giving me all the information to be totally confident in making all my decisions regarding my son's admission. I went online to visit school Web sites, visited school campus. I talked with my colleagues, friends, relatives. Sure, this was all very helpful, but nothing really told me what life was like at the schools that I was most interested in for my Son.

Only two ways were there to get the perfect information I wanted for my son's admission. One was by physically visiting all the school campus and seeing if things were really as were described in respective school brochures, but this was quite expensive and not always feasible. The second was interacting with the students of that school. Talking to real students who actually attended the schools that I was interested in gave me the information that I needed so badly.

In the end, I weighed my options and decided on a school that felt right and had a great academic reputation, but to be true, I still was confused about the choice for my son's school. I had done a lot of research as any other student or parent would have done for selecting a school to study in, but I was not absolute sure that I had picked the dream school for my son.

Rewinding back, I'm sure that my choice for my son's school was not absolute accurate, I understand that every school is not right for every person. I dreamt of creating SchoolZIndia, to create a right platform that students & parents would feel confident using for deciding about a school. My experience is that the best way to find out about anything is to ask people who actually have done it or are experiencing it currently.
